FACE4Kids School Sessions: 246 different sessions with 2797 students

A struggles with anger issues and his ability to control his behavior when he gets upset.

A is beginning to accept teacher redirection. He has shown improvement in controlling his anger.

V needs to take responsibility for work and choices. He would benefit from learning to problem solve & gaining leadership skills.

V is really working harder now to be successful. He really enjoyed the FACE program!

We are meeting with D's mother soon to discuss possible autism diagnosis. He is very quiet and previously home schooled.

SO proud of D, he's really starting to lead and participate in conversations.

J needs to take more responsibility with his work and personal education.

J wants to be successful. He has improved in his organizational skills and hands in assignments more frequently.

N struggles to read and as a result masks his insecurity with humor.

N is showing potential to be a classroom leader.

C. seems very unsure of his abilities and has little confidence when working or speaking in class.

I have seen a big difference in C's class behaviors. He is raising his hand to answer questions in class

L. has problems with outbursts and hitting, being hyperactive and could not focus.

L has shown HUGE SUCCESS!

T is not confident in herself and needs focus to make progress

There has been a change in T's attitude toward learning and social interactions. Both her reading and math assessment grades have gone up.

Sample Pre-Survey comments from the students, "I want to improve in":

Controlling my temper

Turn in my homework

Not getting in fights

Making good choices

Confidence and speaking better

Being a Leader!
